Dear Class of 1986,

We've reached yet another milestone in our journey through life – fifteen years on from that fateful June day in 1986. To say that a lot has changed in fifteen years would be an understatement. Aside from the personal computer, the growth and still untapped potential of the Internet is the single most significant change the world has seen over the last fifteen years, perhaps even the last one hundred years (has everyone registered with Classmates.com?). Looking back to the turn of the last century, could our counterparts of one hundred years ago have envisioned all that the Twentieth Century would bring? Can we even begin to imagine what the Twenty-first Century will bring?

Indeed, the hallmark of the past fifteen years has been revolution: environmental, economic, and social revolution on global, national, local, and personal scales. Humankind's impact on the environment and global warming were theories when we graduated, but are now established scientific facts as we watch the earth's temperature steadily rise. The Cold War was still being waged, but is now a foggy memory as we witnessed the fall of the Iron Curtain. Israel and the Palestinian Liberation Organization were mortal enemies, but are now working toward an uneasy peace. Las Vegas, Atlantic City, or the after-prom party were the only places to gamble in the U.S., but now Alton-based Argosy Gaming operates a floating casino parked at the Alton waterfront. Some of us were quite good at raising a ruckus, but now have turned our loving attention to raising families.

In my graduation speech, I asked each of you to continually examine your lives, challenge yourself with goals, and live life to its fullest (if for no other reason than to have something to discuss at reunions). If the reunions of five and ten years ago didn't convince you that our classmates have taken these challenges to heart and blossomed into extraordinarily diverse and talented individuals, I'm convinced you're going to be pleasantly surprised. At the very least, you'll be reminded of the pride that was part and parcel of being the Class of 1986.

We've all played a part in or have in some way been touched by the revolutions of the past fifteen years. Our common bond helped to frame our view of the world, which is why it is so important for us to reconnect and share our experiences, lessons learned, and for at least one night, re-live 1986 (only the best parts, of course). It's also important for us to reconnect as a family, after all, we spent the better part of our formative years together (warts and all as the saying goes), which is why I'm so glad we'll have the opportunity again to meet the families of the Class of 1986 (and tell your kids stories you'd rather they didn't know). I had such fun five and ten years ago catching up with everyone I could and meeting the next generation that I can't wait to touch bases again, re-live old memories, and talk about what the next one hundred years will bring! See you there!

Best regards

SENIOR CLASS PICTURE

The senior class picture was photographed on Thursday, November 7th during second hour. Over 500 seniors and the school's administrators gathered together on the girls softball field to have the class of 1986 photograph taken.

In 1986 we saw the emergence of many new faces as well as the return of some old faces.

Product of the 80s

What IS a Product of the 80s? How do you know if YOU are a Product of the 80s? Well, read on to find out!

- * You might be a Product of the 80s IF...
- * you remember when McDonald's packaged their products in Styrofoam.
- * you know the words to the "C.I.T. Song" from Meatballs.
- * you remember the song "Pilot of the Airwaves."
- * you ever watched the game show "Starcade."
- * you know who Elron McKenzie is.
- * you hear the words "I don't know" and your first instinct is to dodge the falling green slime!
- * you ever owned a "How To Win Video Games" book.
- * you know the lyrics to one or more of the following: Three's Company, Facts of Life, Cheers, Family Ties, Growing Pains, Dukes of Hazard, or The Muppet Show.
- * you wanted to be one of the kids on Mr. Wizard's World.
- * you know who Large Marge is.
- * you ever owned, or still own, any 12" remix records.
- * you based your choice of convenience store on their selection of video games.

Taken from the website: Product of the 80's

Fads and Fashions of the 80s

- * Neon
- * The "Don Johnson" look
- * Guys wearing pastel colors
- * Puff painted clothes
- * Women in men's attire
- * Turned up collars
- * Sweaters around the neck
cuffed together in front
- * Oversize shirts/sweaters
- * Izod
- * Ocean Pacific
- * Sweater vests
- * Jackets with numerous zippers
- * Leg warmers
- * Lee jeans
- * Calvin Kleins
- * Jordache jeans
- * Guess? jeans
- * Jams
- * Vision Street Wear
- * Short jeans with tight cuffs and zippers at the bottom of the legs
- * Jeans worn with dressy shoes
- * Kaepas
- * Jellies
- * High tops
- * Slouch socks
- * Keds
- * Tennis shoes without laces
- * Feathered hair
- * Crimped hair
- * Spiked hair
- * Mousse
- * Banana clips
- * Colored mascara
- * Big earrings
- * Swatches
- * Skinny ties
- * Twist-a-Beads

Lingo of the 80s

- * "Like" anything
- * Totally
- * Awesome!
- * Gag me with a spoon!
- * Don't have a cow!
- * Radical
- * Tubular
- * Omigod!
- * Gnarley
- * Dude
- * Psychel
- * Killer
- * Chill
- * FerSure
- * Butthead

Therefore, a conversation of the 1980s might sound somewhat like this:

"Omigod! Last night I met this, like, totally awesome dude with, like, a radical car but, like, his clothes - UH! - like, gag me with a spoon!"

Anything in this format must be spoken as quickly as possible in order to be truly 80s!
